Hi Mr. Nam:

Thank you for your prompt response.

I am going to paraphrase what I believe that you wrote. If I am correct in my understanding, please confirm. If I have misunderstood, please clarify.

I believe that you have stated that there is no manual of policies and procedures that contains the policies and procedures regarding issuing of oaths.

I believe that you have stated that there is no manual of policies and procedures that contains the policies and procedures regarding fulfillment of LORA requests.

Do I understand correctly?

Also, could you let me know whether you will certify under penalty of perjury that the redacted oaths were properly executed?

Thank you for your help.

Hi Ms. Grab – Thank you for your email clarifying that your October 30 email inquiry was intended to be a request under LORA. However, the purpose of LORA is to make existing legislative records available for inspection. It does not require the Senate to create new records for the purposes of providing explanations, answering questions, or compiling information into a report.

Dear Mr. Nam/Ms. Contreras:

Thank you for providing the documents responsive to my LORA requests that I made on August 31, September 4, and September 5, 2023.

I wanted to clarify that the email that I sent on October 30, 2023, in which I asked for an explanation of policy and procedure for how the oath filing system and LORA fulfillment processes work, an explanation of exactly what Mr. Nam's role is within this process, how many other people are involved in the fulfillment of LORA requests, and what exactly each of them do as part of the process, was a formal LORA request. The response is due on Friday, November 10.

Regards,

Christine Grab
