

CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE

SENATE DAILY JOURNAL

FIRST LEGISLATIVE DAY

IN SENATE

Senate Chamber, Sacramento
Monday, December 7, 2020

PROCEEDINGS OF THE SENATE

The hour of 12 o'clock noon, having arrived, the Honorable Eleni Kounalakis, Lieutenant Governor, in accordance with Article IV, Section 3(a) of the Constitution of the State of California, called the Senate to order and announced that the 2021–22 Regular Session of the Legislature was about to convene, and informed the Senators that, pursuant to Section 9150 of the Government Code, Erika Contreras, Secretary of the Senate, Katrina Rodriguez, Interim Sergeant at Arms, and Mathew Burns, Minute Clerk, were in their respective places.

Assistant Secretary Heshani Wijemanne reading.

PRAYER

Upon invitation of the President, the following prayer was offered by Senator-elect Laird, as written by the Chaplain, Sister Michelle Gorman, RSM:

Gracious and mysterious God of all, today we come into Your presence with gratitude for our past, sincere prayers for our present, and a hopeful outlook for our future.

Pearl Harbor Day of Remembrance reminds us of those who sacrificed their lives to keep us safe in the past. Those many lives lost and the witness of their families allowed for the transformation of harsh conflict into freedom and peace for many.

We come to this day heavy hearted for all those afflicted in body or spirit because of the coronavirus pandemic. We ask You to grant relief to the elderly, who depend on the gentleness and kindness of others to care for them; The young, who find themselves separated from their schoolmates in less than ideal learning situations; Essential workers, in health care, education, food production, security, who risk their own health to meet our daily needs; And those who are losing hope, not seeing how they can survive the spiritual and economic effects of this pandemic.

Gracious God, today, as we begin this session of the Legislature, give comfort and peace to our Senators and their staff as they work to discover new and surprising solutions to the mounting challenges ahead. Give them political courage to create laws that benefit the common good. Give them broad vision and holy wisdom to help them persevere through days of uncertainty and struggle. And each day, may they hear You speak words of encouragement in the depths of their hearts. L.R. Knost wrote:

Do not be dismayed by the brokenness of the world.

All things break. And all things can be mended.

Not with time, but with intention.

So, go now. Love intentionally, extravagantly, unconditionally.

This broken world waits in darkness for the light that is you.—AMEN.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE TO THE FLAG

Senator-elect Ochoa Bogh led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

ADDRESS BY SENATOR TONI G. ATKINS
PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE OF THE SENATE

Good afternoon! To our new colleagues, welcome. To our returning colleagues, welcome back!

I know we are all proud to be here representing our districts. I want to thank the people of the 39th Senate District for putting their faith in me once again. And thank you, colleagues, for trusting me to continue serving as President pro Tem.

In order for the Senate to organize for the coming year, it is necessary for us to have a physical quorum on the floor today.

So we are here today to perform the essential tasks of swearing in Senators and electing our officers for the next session, including our outstanding Secretary of the Senate, Erika Contreras and our brand new Legislative Counsel, Cara Jenkins and, I'm delighted to add voting to make Interim Chief Katrina Rodriguez our new Chief Sergeant at Arms.

While acknowledging these outstanding women, I also want to take a moment to recognize Bernadette McNulty, our Chief Assistant Secretary of the Senate. During the interim, Bernie received the 2020 Legislative Staff Achievement Award from the American Society of Legislative Clerks and Secretaries.

I wanted to be sure to congratulate Bernie as soon as we were all together!

You are, of course, aware of all the precautions the Senate has taken to protect the health of Senators, staff, and visitors to the Capitol. And that's obviously changed how we're doing swearing-in day, and that's OK.

When our constituents are delaying weddings, graduations, and other important life events, the California State Senate is happy to take a pass on some of the pomp and circumstance.

In the coming year, the Senate will continue to focus on COVID-19, on economic relief and recovery, and on addressing chronic challenges that have been exacerbated by the crisis.

To that end, I am pleased to announce that some of the very first bills introduced today will be the Senate's housing package. Affordable housing has been a crisis in California for years, and it has been made worse in every part of the state by COVID-19.

So, housing will be back. Emergency preparedness and response will be back. Efforts to end the harm of 400 years of systemic racism will be back. Broadband access will be back, so no kid in California has to do their homework in a Taco Bell parking lot.

I'm also sure your district offices have been as busy as mine has been helping Californians navigate delays and uncertainties at EDD. We will continue delivering for our constituents, and we will continue to examine how their experience can be improved and not just in times of crisis.

When I woke up this morning, I couldn't help thinking about my friend Al Bodenlos. Al was a musician. He was also in the Army, stationed in Hawaii, in 1941.

Al was on his way back to his base when the first attack hit Pearl Harbor. He said you could see the pilots' faces. He spent the next couple days without sleep, relaying messages between officers and airfields on his motorcycle.

So, on this December 7, I was thinking about Al, and the other members of the Greatest Generation, and the sacrifices they made, both overseas and here at home.

They made do with rationed food, gas, and tires. They saved grease and food scraps, and they led neighborhood drives to collect paper, tin, and other materials.

They also built quality emergency housing to take care of the workers needed for the war effort, and they provided childcare and other vital services to help all the Rosie the Riveters who had entered the workforce.

When you look at what we are being asked to do today, wear masks, avoid large groups, stay close to home that's not a lot to ask compared to sacrifices others have made for the greater good.

And it is not a lot for Californians to ask that we do everything we can, as legislators and as individuals, to eradicate this existential threat to our loved ones, our communities, our small businesses, and our economy.

We owe it to each other, to those who came before us and those who will come after us to meet these tough times with the same kind of courage, sacrifice, and determination Californians have displayed so many times.

There is much that must be done. And I believe we will do it. There will also be much to celebrate, especially this time of year.

Please know Jennifer and I wish all of you and yours the happiest of holidays and a productive, rewarding, and BORING 2021.

I'd like to now invite our Senate Republican Leader from Bakersfield to make some remarks.

ADDRESS BY SENATOR SHANNON GROVE
SENATE REPUBLICAN LEADER

Members: Today is Pearl Harbor Day, so we need to take a moment to say a prayer for those individuals who have served as the Greatest Generation that answered the call and insured the survival of the greatest nation on Earth.

Today is also the time that we come together to welcome new Senators to the people's house.

This new Legislature joins the ranks of only four thousand four hundred and fifty seven individuals who have had the privilege of serving in the California State Legislature.

On behalf of the Republican Caucus, I would like to welcome the state's newest public servants to the State Senate.

Serving as a Senator in this Legislature is both an honor and an immense responsibility.

You are among a small group of individuals who have served in this building on the red carpet in history.

You have been elected by your constituents, to serve and defend our constitution from all enemies foreign and domestic.

This is an immense responsibility that you take on today.

The last nine months have brought many challenges to this state, our businesses, and the 40 million residents who call the Golden State their home.

The people of this state are hurting. We have a responsibility to meet their needs responsibly.

It is our responsibility to work together to help move California through this time.

Thank you Madam Pro Tem for your leadership and for setting the tone of this body so that we may continue our work together.

I pray we can all come together in this new Legislative Session to serve the purpose we were given by Article IV of the California Constitution.

As it reads: "The Legislative Power of this State is vested in the California Legislature."

Before us today, we have part of that legislative body that makes up the 2021-22 Legislative Session.

It is our great challenge to work alongside each other, the Assembly, and Governor, as we navigate uncharted territory.

In the words of President Ronald Reagan: "I know it's a hell of a challenge, but ask yourselves if not us, who? And if not now, when?"

May God give us wisdom and direction as we seek to meet the needs of all those in California who are expecting us to act to restore the Golden State.

Thank you.

At 12:33 p.m., Hon. Connie M. Leyva, of the 20th District, Presiding
